JOIN THE PWVTA for 2010!

Why you should:

At a time when rent stabilized apartments and affordable housing are disappearing from New York City, it is especially important that you join with other tenants to protect your home.

The property owners of PWV are working on building a shopping mall along Columbus Avenue and a residential tower in front of 788 Excavation has also begun on the east side of Columbus, as well as on 100th Street and Amsterdam Avenue. The neighborhood is having to endure air quality problems and a great deal of noise and vibration during this long construction period, as well as pedestrian disruptions. We have lost our local and much frequented stores along Columbus and Amsterdam Avenues. PWVTA has been working on several fronts to try to ameliorate these conditions and monitor safety. We have engaged elected officials and city departments to these ends.

PWVTA has helped tenants in the Columbus Avenue buildings with problems of rent overcharges, poor maintenance and security and notices to vacate parking spaces. We have helped legitimate and long term tenants in the Central Park West buildings when they were issued the beginning of an eviction process. Without the help of PWVTA these tenants would have been on their own to fight this threat to their homes.

And, PWVTA works closely with other tenants' organizations toward maintaining affordable housing in NYC.
